

Welcome to Landscape Design School

National Garden Clubs, Inc. established a series of four courses on landscape design in order to develop a greater appreciation of the environment, both natural and manmade, for its members. Course content is established by National Garden Clubs, Inc. (NGC).

The Landscape Design Schools (LDS) are designed to:

- Develop a greater sense of appreciation, pride and knowledge about our private, public and historic gardens
- Promote positive changes in our surroundings to encourage beauty, utility, convenience, sound ecological practice and ease of maintenance
- Encourage better understanding of the landscape design process to promote landscapes that will sustain sound management
- Stimulate interest in all phases of landscape design, including community planning
- Develop a contingent of qualified Landscape Design Consultants to serve in such decision-making areas of public life as providing leadership, educational programs, scholarships, awards & promoting better landscape design

Courses may be taken in any order. Each course consists of ten hours of instruction, which may include field trips and tours to related locations. Open book/open note exams are offered for those wishing to become NGC Accredited Consultants. After passing two Landscape Design School courses, a student becomes a Provisional Consultant and may join a Landscape Design Council -- a group that provides programs and tours that further the education of its members. Garden club members who complete all four courses with a passing grade on every exam within seven years become Landscape Design Consultants, which is recognized as a special achievement among NGC members... but does not convey professional status. To remain in Good Standing, every five years Landscape Design Consultants must continue their education by attending a Refresher or a LD School Course -- no exam is required. After a Consultant's fourth refresher, the Consultant becomes a Master Consultant. Consultants or Master Consultants may earn refresher credit only once within a calendar year.
